Despite four years of challenging weather conditions and environmental restrictions,

DonahueFavret overcame numerous obstacles to renovate a historic New Orleans building to house Tulane University's LEED Gold-certified School of Social Work, offering pearly 20,000 square feet of study classroom and meeting spaces

Harsh weather and poor soil conditions didn't stop Brasheld & Gorrie from completing this new church—featuring classrooms, a fellowship concourse and an 800-seat sanctuary—on time, under budget and with a 69 percent local workforce

Adolfson & Peterson performed this occupied renovation and addition in a location wit freezing temperatures three-quarters of the year, transforming a rundown school into a 21st century learning environment and the community's first LEED-certified building.

Despite site constraints, including a high-voltage power line running through the center of the jobsite, Brasfield & Gorrie successfully managed construction of the largest college video board—reducing a typical 10-month structural scope to jus over six months.

Regal Construction provided turnkey design-build services to construct four critical structures in the heart of Marathon's half-million-barrel-per-day refinery.

Totaling 42,000-square-feet, the blast-resistant buildings include 35 offices, four conference rooms and more than 20,000 square feet of fabrication shops.

In this design-build renovation for a community nonprofit health provider, Wohlsen Construction overcame a variety of challenges to provide a new medical and dental clinic in what was once an abandoned building on a contaminated brownfield site.

Hoar navigated an urban site—working to prevent disruption to adjacent homeowners and retailers—while demolishing existing apartments to make way for a new 400 000-square-foot complex with 276 luxury residences.

Already working within a compressed schedule, Nor-Son overcame a number of sit conditions and accessibility issues in order to design and build this 7,314-squarefoot estate in time for the Luxury Home Tour.

Contractor of the Year Award

Every year, ABC honors a company that shines above the rest for its corporate integrity, commitment to the professional development and safety of employees, dedication to expert craftsmanship and high esteem in the industry at large.

This year, ABC bestows the Contractor of the Year award on David Allen Company, Raleigh, N.C.

Founded in 1920, the company has grown to become one of the nation's largest marble, granite, terrazzo, tile and underlayment contractors, with nearly 500 employees and craft professionals.

Its stunning craftsmanship can be seen in the flooring and finishes of just about every major airport on the East Coast, including Ronald Reagan National Airport, Charlotte Douglas International Airport, Miami International Airport and Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport. The company also has helped transform numerous educational, government, hospitality, institutional, and medical interiors and exteriors into works of art through its meticulous eye for detail and museum-quality installation methods.

David Allen Company's foundation is built not only on the strengths of its experienced workforce, but also its industry relationships. Many of the company's craft professionals are second- and third-generation employees, while several of its general contracting partners have been doing business with the company for more than 75 years. The leadership team of Chairman Robert Roberson, CEO David Roberson, President Art Odom, Executive Vice President Martin Howard and Secretary-Treasurer Terry Preston collectively have more than 200 years of service with the company.

As a STEP Platinum company, yearly project award winner and activist on the political front, David Allen Company embodies the merit shop philosophy through and through.
