
As chair-elect, Goodrich helps oversee the national association’s activities, sets policy and assists the national chairman in carrying out the mandates of the ABC Board of Directors. He previously served as Central Council Chair for the Indiana Region of ABC and on ABC’s National Free Enterprise Alliance and the Legislative Committee.

Goodrich began his career with Gaylor Electric in 1994 as an intern and moved up the ranks to a variety of key leadership positions within the company, including executive vice president. He is a proven leader and inspires his staff with his high-energy/high-performance business style.

As a leader in the business community, Goodrich also is chair of the Riverview Health Foundation, chair-elect of the Purdue Construction Advisory Board for Building Construction Management, and actively works with workforce development. Goodrich is a professional member of the National Honor Society for Construction, Metro Indianapolis Coalition for Construction Safety, Design-Build Institute of America and the Purdue Alumni Association.

With a Bachelor of Science degree in building construction/contracting from Purdue University and a graduate of the Clemson University: Project Management Academy, Goodrich has been recognized for his professional leadership and philanthropic passion by winning the James J. Leonard Memorial Award; Business Person of the Year, City of Noblesville, Ind.; the ABC Outstanding Chapter Support Award; and the Gaylor Optimist Award.

Goodrich lives in Noblesville, Indiana, with his wife, Tricia, and their four children. The family is very active in the community and are members of the White River Christian Church. Goodrich also participates in the Noblesville Chamber of Commerce and All Pro Dads.
Associated Builders and Contractors (ABC) is a national construction industry trade association representing nearly 21,000 chapter members. Founded on the merit shop philosophy, ABC and its 70 chapters help members develop people, win work and deliver that work safely, ethically, profitably and for the betterment of the communities in which ABC and its members work. Visit us at www.abc.org.