

Mike Henderson
Chapter Presidents' Liaison
Associated Builders and Contractors

Mike Henderson, president of the Baltimore Chapter of Associated Builders and Contractors (ABC), began his term as chapter presidents' liaison to the Executive Committee on Jan.1, 2014. In this role, Henderson serves as chairman of the Chapter Presidents' Executive Council, responsible for the coordination of communications between ABC's 70 chapters and the national organization. He also promotes the chapter presidents' professional development while communicating the chapter presidents' concerns, ideas and opinions to the ABC Executive Committee.

Prior to coming to ABC Baltimore, Henderson served as ABC National's director of communications where he worked closely with Washington, D.C. media and some of the nation's leading newspapers.

Throughout his career with ABC, Henderson created and managed strategic alliances with major industry groups, such as the American Institute of Architects and the Urban Land Institute, developed Maryland's largest workers' compensation program, helped to create The Maryland Center for Construction Education and Innovation and previously served on the Governor's Task Force to Improve Efficiency in Government.

A graduate of Towson University where he studied Communications and Business, Henderson also completed course work for a Master's Degree at the University of Baltimore. In his free time, Henderson is the board president for Acts 4 Youth, a non-profit organization that mentors at-risk-boys in the Pen Lucy area of Baltimore City. Henderson currently resides in Towson, Md., with his wife and three children.
