WASHINGTON, D.C. – Associated Builders and Contractors (ABC) has named Jason R. Daisey vice president of finance. Daisey previously served as executive vice president and chief financial officer of North Texas Public Broadcasting, Inc. (KERA), the Public Broadcasting Service television and National Public Radio affiliate in Dallas. At ABC, he will oversee and direct the finance and facilities management/office services, as well as provide financial oversight for ABC affiliated organizations including ABC Services Corp., Construction Legal Rights Foundation and Trimmer Education Foundation.

“Jason brings a wealth of experience in finance, operations and management, all of which will benefit our members and chapters tremendously,” said ABC President and CEO Kirk Pickerel. “It is a pleasure to welcome Jason into the ABC family.”

At North Texas Public Broadcasting, Daisey managed the stations’ financial, technology, human resources and corporate development functions. He led the team responsible for acquiring and financing a new public radio station that went live in November 2009. Prior to joining North Texas Public Broadcasting, he was vice president of finance and planning for PBS in Arlington, Va., where he spent seven years leading strategic planning and finance activities for the national broadcaster.

A graduate of Loyola University Maryland with a master’s degree in business administration and a bachelor’s degree in finance, he is a licensed stockbroker, registered investment advisor and a licensed Certified Public Accountant in Maryland.
