ABC Sounds Alarm on Union Giveaways in Federal Construction Contracting
ABC generated hundreds of broadcast hits on CNBC, Fox News and local television news programs criticizing the Biden administration’s efforts to exclude merit shop contractors from bidding on taxpayer-funded construction projects via controversial project labor agreements. Vice President of Regulatory, State and Labor Affairs Ben Brubeck said the Biden administration’s anti-competitive policies will cause cost increases, construction delays and acute workforce shortages.

PRO Act Stalled in US House, Senate
The ABC-opposed Protecting the Right to Organize Act, which would drastically restructure America’s labor laws and greatly diminish opportunities for entrepreneurs and small businesses, continues to face an uphill battle to obtain a floor vote in either chamber of Congress. The ABC-supported Employee Rights Act, which would enshrine worker freedoms threatened by the PRO Act, has obtained 57 co-sponsors in the U.S. House of Representatives and 26 co-sponsors in the U.S. Senate.

ABC Members Ask Congress for Regulatory Relief
Mario Burgos, chief strategy officer, Prairie Band LLC, Albuquerque, New Mexico, pictured, and Roy Heim, president of Heim Construction Co. Inc., Orwigsburg, Pennsylvania, each testified before hearings in the U.S. House of Representatives Small Business Committee urging lawmakers to rein in the Biden administration’s burdensome regulatory regime, which is threatening the American dream for entrepreneurs.

FEA Prepares for the 2024 Elections
ABC’s Free Enterprise Alliance raised over $2.3 million in 2023 in preparation for the 2024 election cycle. With generous support from ABC members and chapters, FEA has already invested in issue advocacy campaigns in key target states, including Ohio and West Virginia. FEA is looking to raise and invest over $3 million in issue advocacy and—separately—get-out-the-vote campaigns in 2024.

ABC Leads Fight for Fair and Open Competition
ABC and an ABC-led coalition have successfully prevented language in federal legislation funding government and private construction projects from requiring inflationary project labor agreements and continue to fight the Biden administration’s anti-competitive pro-PLA policies on federal and federally assisted construction projects. The Fair and Open Competition Act has obtained 118 co-sponsors in the U.S. House of Representatives and 27 co-sponsors in the U.S. Senate. BuildAmericaLocal.com

ABC Connects Members With Elected Leaders

The Merit Shop Construction Workforce Continues to Grow in 2023

The Biden administration’s numerous policy schemes benefitting construction unions have not reversed steady declines in union market share. A record 89.3% of construction workers—7.9 million—did not belong to a union in 2023. In 29 states, at least 90% of workers in the private construction industry did not belong to a union.

ABC Presses Congress on R&D Tax Credit

ABC urged Congress to pass the Build It in America Act, which would extend key provisions of the ABC-supported Tax Cuts and Jobs Act and provide additional certainty to the construction industry, including the deduction for research and development and the extension of the 100% bonus depreciation. A bill to ensure immediate expensing for the R&D credit awaits a vote in the U.S. Senate.

ABC Urges Reauthorization of Workforce Development Legislation

ABC participated in a U.S. House of Representatives roundtable to press for reauthorization of the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act with best practices from the industry to better expand workforce development opportunities for all of America’s workers and policies to help connect job creators with job seekers. The House Education and the Workforce Committee approved the Stronger Workforce for America Act to reauthorize WIOA, which includes several ABC-backed provisions that support an all-of-the-above approach to workforce development.

ABC Supports Bill To Modernize NEPA

The Fiscal Responsibility Act would deliver significant permitting reforms to limit the scope of the often-abused National Environmental Policy Act and expedite the construction of energy infrastructure projects. The bill contains much-needed efficiencies, including codifying key elements of the ABC-supported One Federal Decision framework.

ABC Calls for Congressional Oversight of OSHA Overreach

ABC participated in a U.S. House of Representatives roundtable focused on the Occupational Safety and Health Administration’s aggressive regulatory agenda, which has focused on union organizing at the expense of worker safety—including the electronic injury and illness reporting rule and union walkaround policy—and a rulemaking on heat illness prevention.

DEVELOP PEOPLE

ABC works to elevate careers in construction and build the workforce talent pipeline.

ABC Members Are Bringing the Best Talent to Construction

ABC’s 68 chapters and their affiliates offer 800 apprenticeship, craft, safety and construction management education programs across the country. In 2023, government-registered apprenticeship programs grew 50% to 450. The National Student Chapter Network, which connects local ABC chapters to colleges and universities with construction management degree programs, grew to 58 in 2023 with seven new chapters: Benjamin Franklin Institute of Technology, Prairie View A&M University, Seminole State College, Stephen F. Austin University, The University of Akron, The University of Louisiana at Lafayette and the University of Maryland, Eastern Shore.

ABC Insurance Trust Helps Members Deliver a Robust Employee Value Proposition

In a transformative year, the ABC Insurance Trust redefined the employee benefits landscape with new services available exclusively to ABC members: the first national healthcare captive for construction contractors, a cost-effective healthcare solution for smaller member companies and a retirement plan design and management solution that includes adoption of the ABC National Multiple Employer Plan. These innovative benefits enhance workforce well-being and make ABC member companies more appealing to top talent in a competitive market while delivering significant savings.

STATUS

JOINT EMPLOYER FINAL RULE
- In 2022, the National Labor Relations Board announced a new joint employer proposed rule that would rescind and replace the ABC-supported 2020 final rule, which provided clear criteria for companies to apply when determining status.
- In 2023, the NLRB published its final rule, which takes an ax to the ABC-supported 2020 final rule and greatly expands joint-employer liability under the National Labor Relations Act.
- In November, ABC joined the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and a coalition of business groups in filing a lawsuit challenging the final rule.

IMPROVE TRACKING OF WORKPLACE INJURIES AND ILLNESSES FINAL RULE
- In 2019, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration issued an ABC-supported final rule that eliminated some of the burdensome requirements in the 2016 injury and illness tracking rule.
- In 2022, OSHA issued a new proposal that would increase the number of contractors subject to electronic safety data submission requirements and post parts of the submissions on a public website.
- In 2023, OSHA issued a final rule, effective Jan. 1, 2024, which undoes the ABC-supported provisions of the 2019 final rule and reprises the 2016 Obama-era rule.

OVERTIME PROPOSED RULE
- In 2016, ABC filed a successful legal challenge against the 2016 final overtime rule, blocking it.
- In 2023, the DOL issued a new proposed rule to raise the minimum salary level needed to qualify as exempt. The agency indicates that it expects that the minimum salary threshold will be at least $55,068 (annualized). However, when the DOL promulgates the final rule, the DOL claims it will use the most recent data then available and projects the minimum salary threshold to be $60,209.
- A final rule is expected in 2024.

“AMBUSH” ELECTION FINAL RULE
- Despite years of litigation, the Biden administration’s NLRB has revived a controversial policy from the Obama era that overhauled the procedures for union representation elections.
- The NLRB’s 2023 direct final rule, issued without notice or the opportunity to comment, essentially restores provisions of the 2014 “ambush” election rule, which drastically shortens the representation election process.
- The final rule went into effect on Dec. 26, 2023.

DESIRED OUTCOMES

JOINT EMPLOYER FINAL RULE
- ABC opposes the final rule, which will cause confusion and impose unnecessary barriers to and burdens on contractor and subcontractor relationships throughout the construction industry. As a result, contractors may be vulnerable to increased liability, making them less likely to hire subcontractors, most of which are small businesses.

IMPROVE TRACKING OF WORKPLACE INJURIES AND ILLNESSES FINAL RULE
- ABC opposes the final rule because it does nothing to achieve OSHA’s stated goal of reducing injuries and illnesses. The public disclosure of sensitive information can easily be manipulated, mischaracterized and misused for reasons wholly unrelated to safety, subjecting employers to illegitimate attacks and employees to violations of their privacy.

OVERTIME PROPOSED RULE
- ABC called on the DOL to withdraw the proposal, which is unlawful, inconsistent with historic norms and particularly harmful to small businesses. The DOL should recognize that the construction industry is currently up against increased geopolitical uncertainty, high materials prices, inflationary pressures and workforce shortages.

“AMBUSH” ELECTION FINAL RULE
- ABC opposes the NLRB’s final rule, which imposes unnecessary urgency on employers, leaving them susceptible to violations of their due process rights, and deprives employees of the time needed to become fully informed before deciding whether or not to unionize.

BUDDY HENLEY
2024 Chair of the ABC National Board of Directors

In the many years that I have been in the business of construction, I recognize that success isn’t just about bricks and mortar, it’s about building connections, honing skills and navigating an ever-evolving landscape. This is where I feel my membership and involvement through the years with ABC steps up as more than just an organization; it’s a cornerstone for all construction enterprises looking to elevate their value proposition and expand their horizons.

With ABC, what I’ve found is that all members get a key to unlocking the potential of their people and businesses. It’s the conduit to a community where professionals forge alliances, exchange ideas and foster collaboration—where industry leaders converge, sharing insights, experiences and innovations.

Whether you are a startup, a mid-sized general contractor like me, or an established giant in the construction industry, every member can find pathways toward excellence with ABC.

Access to training programs, certifications and workshops empowers individuals to master their craft, enhancing efficiency, health and safety on jobsites across the country. I have utilized all of these not only for myself, but also for my team at Henley Construction throughout the years. It’s about embracing the future with new technological advancements and sustainability efforts. Through ABC’s advocacy efforts, members stand unified, championing policies that bolster the industry and allow us to grow.

I also personally feel that the value of ABC extends beyond the tangible perks: It’s about belonging to a community where everyone is invested in each other’s triumphs. It’s about celebrating milestones together and weathering challenges collectively.

Whether staying abreast of regulatory changes, accessing industry insights or finding mentorship with seasoned professionals, ABC isn’t just a mere affiliation, it’s partnership that comes with the commitment to growth and excellence. For me, standing shoulder to shoulder with ABC wasn’t just an option, it was a strategic decision to thrive in this ever-evolving industry.
